

IMAGINE

Imagine.

A space where sustainable innovation is catalyzed by community collaboration

Where individuals and organizations make success count together.

Here, the community thrives amidst a meaningful, collaborative network, and shared resources.

The Green Hub represents a vision for a space where organizations and community members are able to interact and access resources & physical capital such as collective knowledge or office space, as well as services such as business advising, legal, and marketing.

The timing?
Now.

The environment, economy, and community are in urgent need of community driven sustainable action.

Collaboration is redefining business worldwide. A Green Hub can foster local action by enabling connections between people and resources.

In fact - the need has been introduced by you, the community, in a series of discussions involving over 70 organizations in 2012-2013 at #WRENE 2012

We have a unique opportunity, Kitchener-Waterloo...

This city is rapidly evolving, and the worlds eyes are on us for the innovation that is nurtured in this community.

A core team of us have been developing it. We are social entrepreneurs, professors, project managers, and community members who collectively believe in driving social change through collaborative action. Find out who we are and more details on the project and how you can get involved at www.greenrocket.ca/green-hub/

And now we need YOUR help, KW! Please give us your voice and help shape this vision by filling out this 5 minute survey:
